The Senate also told the House of Commons on Tuesday that Finance Minister Bill Morneau's business dealings, and any potential conflicts of interest, must be included in the report, because the money is coming from taxpayers. And it directed the federal ethics commissioner to consider whether Morneau's company, Morneau Shepell, should have been included on the list of registered charities he filed in April. A report written by a Senate committee on Jan. 9 recommends that Gerald Butts, a longtime friend and ex-cabinet minister to Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, be approved to be a Supreme Court justice. Butts donated $200,000 to the Liberals during the 2015 election, and in March, Trudeau announced that Butts was leaving his job as Trudeau's principal secretary in order to serve as Butts's lawyer at Queen's Counsel. That is when it is alleged by the documents tabled in court that the Prime Minister's Office sought assurances that Butts would not have any involvement in the fundraising event at the Westin Hotel. The Senate's report includes details of a call that took place at Butts' request. Butts insisted he had no involvement in the events and
