Homeworld can be a hard place. The film of Rise of the Planet of the Apes is set in a world where a 12,000-year-long ice age caused the extinction of the dominant primate species, and left the future of mankind entirely in the hands of the apes. But that doesn't mean the planet was deserted. A civilization of bipedal apes thrived in secret for millennia, creating cities, tools, weapons, and sophisticated technology. But as the apes evolved, so did their enemies. The technologically superior and militarily powerful humans seek to destroy the ape civilization, leaving the last humans to a desperate struggle for survival in the hostile wild. But every war, no matter how big or small, has its casualties. Leap of Fate is an intense new title in the Homeworld franchise that's unlike any Homeworld game before it. In this game, you will embody the ape protagonist of the first three Rise of the Planet of the Apes films and pilot their ape vehicles, the Skimmer, Scout, and Assault. Play the Homeworld™ franchise for the first time with hundreds of alien units, epic vehicles, and destructible environments in the largest Homeworld game yet! KEY FEATURES: · Ride the Skimmer or the Scout to explore three unique worlds: the hostile jungle of Widelands, the icy surface of Nordland and the lush forests of Afton. · Uncover the story of the Rise of the Planet of the Apes as you experience it from the unique perspective of the ape protagonist. · Build your Homeworld using freely available materials and craft upgrades, such as improved rifles and advanced vehicles. · Create enormous weapons of destruction like the brand new Combat Recoil Cannon or Assault Laser! · Forge the perfect weapon for any situation with the new Forgegun! ## What's new in Little Tennis:

Conference Game Summary View At first glance, the White Sox (1-6) and Reds (2-5) look like a tired old man's dream. After struggling to a 28-37 record under Chris Sale and José Quintana last season, it's no surprise that they come out on the wrong side of a one-sided duel. The White Sox are playing solid defense and getting timely hitting, and they're on pace to shatter their league-worst record of last season. Meanwhile, the Reds are surrendering the second-most runs (429) in the NL, right behind (431) the Pirates, and their pitching staff owns the NL's worst ERA (6.10), .188 batting average, and 38 homers allowed. The combined strength of this incredible offense and this pathetic bullpen (5.28 ERA in 69 1/3 innings) is why the White Sox are on top of this Central Division race and why everyone's holding their breath on the Coors Field scoreboard for a single-run lead for St. Louis. It's doubtful that Sale and Quintana will give up that many runs through the night, but we'll find out soon enough. Neither starter is too hot in this showdown (White Sox: 12:17 p.m. CT; Reds: 1:05 p.m. CT). Get to the ballpark early for this early weather update... The weather gods are providing some hilarious (and somewhat nice) precipitation for the start of the day with this latest forecast... Weather Network But the great thing about free agency is that it's not your friends' strike zone either. Players are free to do anything they want, and Jose Quintana is one of the players who enjoys playing his best in situations like this.

Unfortunately for Quintana, he's also the one most likely to be suspended, via Jeffrey Flanagan of MLB.com, for throwing at Pirates third baseman Jung Ho Kang in a spring training game on Friday: What happens to Quintana? I asked White Sox GM Rick Hahn about the off-track pitch earlier this morning at U.S. Cellular Field, and he said Quintana has not "sanctioned" him to throw at Kang in the game that will be played today. Instead, Hahn said, Quintana will be given a plate-appeal hearing by MLB's office of umpires and referee in New York. If that happens, Quintana would be suspended for his next game, with
