I'm seeking suggestions. A: dList:: It is a GORM based project. So it has a gem, which is was not from the gem library. It looks like it is a library for .Net framework. You don't need to look at the code. It is just a problem with which you can find your solution. Q: Get All Keys from HashMap - java I am looking for a way to loop through all keys of a HashMap. I am currently using a method that has a List implementation. This is because I loop through the content inside the List on the fly. As a result I need to have a HashMap that does the same thing as a List as far as traversing the elements. I have a class that implements Map public class EmbeddedClass implements Map { public List getKeys() { return new ArrayList(map.keySet()); } } But I am not sure how to do the same thing with keys. I could probably make a HashMap with the Keys as a List. But I am hoping for something a little more elegant. This is the class I am working with right now: public class MapGroup { public boolean isEmpty() { return root.size()==0; } private List childs=new ArrayList(); private List root=new ArrayList(); private EmbeddedClass obj=null; public MapGroup(EmbeddedClass c) { this.obj=c; this.root.add(obj.getKey()); } public void addToList(String key,String val) { this.obj.getObject().put(key,val); this.childs.add(key); } public List getAll() { List 6d1f23a050
