Connection : Accept an invitation from a friend. 11) Play & Enjoy! The fact that the "players" say they're waiting on the promised "new content updates" doesn't make me want to see them in the game. Especially when I already have a game with "new content updates", that is fun to play and constantly in development (SOE). Age of Empires Online has been a game that I have not had the privilege to try. The full fledged games have, of course, been an absolute treat. I always get the good luck to play the expansion, clan battles, build the city improvements. I felt that the campaign mode was really the only game I would not have enjoyed too much as a single player. No wave that stays intact, no strategy involved, nothing. That said, I also thought the campaign was fine for those games. Other than the campaign, I am not much familiar with the old games. I suspect that in particular the old Age of Empires Online campaign would be the mostly solo game in this train of thought. 5ec8ef588b
